

MAXIMise
It's really that smart

It's really
here

Imagine a business travel management system that gives your staff all the freedom and flexibility they need, while giving you all the compliance, accountability and cost control you want.

MAXIMISE [IT'S REALLY THAT SMART]

SIMPLICITY itself

Employees now have freedom to select and book their own itinerary

MAXIMise is simplicity itself. Employees log on to the system, enter their flight, car and hotel dates and times and they are instantly provided with all the time, cost and carrier options that can fulfil their schedule. They simply make their choice from these options and the system then organises management approval and arranges all the booking and ticketing.

MAXIMise is the total solution for employees:

- No need to spend time comparing costs or juggling schedules and connections
- Identifies all of the possible flights before and after the desired travel time
- Pinpoints the cheapest possible flight near the preferred travel time
- Records purpose of travel and reason for choice of carrier (if user has not chosen the cheapest available)
- Booking request instantly routed via automated email for management approval and ticketing

MAXIMIZE [IT'S REALLY THAT SMART]

TOTAL solution

MAXIMise is the total travel management system that can revolutionise your business travel. It's ready to start saving you time and money right now.
